> CHINESE, GOLD MINING. As the Imperial Government is, at last, turning its attention seriously to the gold deposits of the 'Amur valley and other parts of Manchuria; a few notes on the processes of mining and administration of mines as carried on by Chinese officials will be interesting and opportune. We have received much authentic information about the Ping-tu gold mines in Shantung from an intelligent foreign observer, and, as the notes describe the ways by which a mine may be made valueless, the facts will be useful to enquirers. If the rich mines of Manchuria are to be worked at a profit a thorough change of system must be enforced, otherwise the shareholders will lose the monies they invest, and, in the end, the Imperial Government will be involved in various unprofitable and embarrassing questions. —In the autumn of 1885 a very able English mining engineer and mineralogist, who had had much experience in mining gold and silver, took over the management of the Ping-tu gold mines on the distinct understanding that they were to be worked by foreign methods; that the expenditure should be controlled by him; that accounts should be kept for him in English, and for Li tsung-tai Taotai, the owner and director, in Chinese; that a monthly allowance of Tls.2,500 should be provided for expenditure at the mines and that a similar amount should be deposited monthly in the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank in Shanghai, to pay for mining material, explosives, etc. These conditions being embodied in formal agreements, a thoroughly competent mining expert, a man of much ability and experience, was telegraphed for to come from England, and an accountant was also engaged.

The manager was unable to proceed to the mines to take charge as soon as he expected as there were many delays and difficulties about money, and for some months he was not able to procure the funds to pay for the necessary stamp-mill. But at length, in April, he made a start accompanied by the mining expert, who had arrived from England.

'The accountant, who had gone to the mines as soon as he was engaged, so as to get matters into preliminary order, found himself soon after his arrival encompassed with troubles. The director was at Chi-nan-fu, and affairs were directed by a numerous and unworthy gang of relatives, who for their own ends, and to screen their past doings, made every effort to frustrate all endeavour to place the organization on a sound financial basis. The south mine had been in work for some months, and it is certain a considerable amount of gold had been extracted from it, but no traces were obtainable of the gains, and the unfortunate workmen had not received pay for about six months.

On the manager's arrival later, he tried to make an orderly and clear beginning, but so many hindrances were raised that it was found necessary, though he sought hard to maintain at all costs amicable relations with the Chinese relatives of the Taotai, to lay a complaint before Li-tsung-tai, then at Chefoo.

It was not until July, 1886, that work was really commenced, and for some months, in fact until the end of the year, things seemed likely to go on more smoothly. Money was provided at fairly regular intervals, but about one-quarter of each sum which reached the mines invariably disappeared. One of the director's so s was appointed treasurer, by his father's orders, and had charge of the chest. On the other hand, the deposit account in Shanghai was never fed regularly, and the manager had on several occasions to advance his own funds to pay for explosives, without which work at the mine must stop; so that when he threw up his post the nine owed him over Tls.12,000. He, finally, lost the interest, and in addition about Tis.1,200 of actual cash outlay. Being sick of the business, he submitted to the loss to be free from further worry and humiliation. Final accounts were rendered in May, 1887, but his claim was not settled until five months after. With the year 1887 serious troubles began.

Funds were not forthcoming, and in May three months' wages were due to the workmen for that year. In all, with previous arrears, nome ten months' pay was due to the men. As remonstrance against the cruel wrong—and the men were next door to starving-had to be made, the Taolai's relatives, a large gang became very hostile. The American mechanic who was engaged to erect the stamp mill, and who played the part of Jacob the supplanter, egged on the Chinese staff, and so matters became worse and worse. Finally, the European staff resigned and departed.

In the ten months from July, 1886, to May, 1887, work had been carried on at the Laou Kung of South mine, the Shieh Tse-shan or Hill mine (the latter really a portion of the first, and ultimately connected with it by a level), the Tiao-wha-tien mine, distant two miles (the lode running from the South mine in this direction); and the Nan-erth-tien mine, about five miles away. Besides these, in regular work, several prospecting shafts had been sunk in different places, but none were found to be worth work-

The stamp mill was in running order in April 1887, and 3,000 tone of quartz were then stacked ready for it, no crushing having been done before | Hongkong, 25th April 1888.

The only stuff found to be remunerative was from the Lacu-kung, of which there was about 1,000 tons, yielding an average of say 14 oz. per ton of free gold, and which ought to have yielded, including concentrates, about 'I'ls 35,000. The actual result is not known; probably, as far as the treasury was concerned, it did not reach onehalf the amount named. From the middle of 'April to beginning of May inferior ore only was put through the mill, the results obtained being, too insignificant to mention.

In May, 1887, the manager and his associates, were refused the control of the mill, the director, evidently acting by the advice of the mechanic who had returned to California in the beginning of the month, placing this department in the hands of his relatives, exclusively. At once the good Laou-kung ore was put into the mill, but with disastrous results, as the Chinese managers had but little training, and no knowledge whatever of the delicate concentrators, which must be managed with intelligence and care.

Various samples were obtained from the dibris washed into the river, and the assays made proved a daily loss of about fifty per cent. The Tiao-wha-tien and Nan-erh-tien mines were not worth working, in fact were worked at a dead loss. The director was strongly advised to abandon these mines and give undivided attention to those which were profitable, but the old gentleman would not listen to the advice, being, it is said, anxious to report to the Viceroy. Li that so many thousand tons of ore were raised, without regard to value or profit or loss.

The conclusion we draw from the notes is: that a competent foreign mining engineer and mineralogist cannot do his duty properly in such circumstances as have been related. He has to encounter the numerous relatives of the director, all ignorant, all incompetent, and all bent on plunder; able also, by fact of relationship, to plunder with impunity. The workmen are robbed and oppressed, and there is always the danger that they may in their desperation and misery turn on their oppressors and murder them; there is no financial regularity; there are no regular or trustworthy accounts; and, for many reasons, mostly having their origin in innate corruption, it is, and, until full powers are given to the foreign expert, will be impossible to work a mine, even if really rich, with any satisfactory or honest result.

The memoranda we possess contain various confirmatory details and explanations, but the resumd we now give will suffice for our purpose. Possibly, if our comments should come, before the high Chinese officials, some initial steps may he taken in consequence to rectify the scandalous abuses of the existing system, even if only to secure some measure of justice for the unpaid labourers, who, at any time, may become nuclei for dangerous disturbances. - Chinese Times.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.) AMOY, 21st April, 1888.

On Sunday the 15th, the dead body of a Chinaman was washed ashore on the south end of the Island of Kulangsoo with a bullet hole through his back; it is surmised that the body floated down the river during the heavy flood which this district has sufferred lately.

Owing to the very heavy rains a good number. of houses both in the city and at Hai Mung Kay, (the scene of the late explosion) have fallen down, and on last Monday a house fell down near the Taotais Yamen resulting in the death of two women who were buried in the ruins. At Hai-Mung-Kang several large houlders were loosened through the rains, and came crashing down the hill, fortunately without doing any serious damage. Yesterday Dr. and Mrs, Ringes left in the S. S.

Jason for Singapore en route for Europe. Taotal Kuei left this morning in the Chinese gunboat Sin Pang for Foochow to take up his new post as Provincial Judge.

The various coolie hongs in the city are crowded with coolies waiting for a steamer to take them to the El Dorado of Celestials, viz. The Straits. The rates of passage money is $7.50 for Singapore and $9 for Penang. shewing a decided improvement over last year when the rates were $4 and $5 respectively. The steamship Fason left yesterday with about 900, and the German steamer Amigo is to leave to-morrow with about 700 more.

Mr. H. C. Russell, of the Imperial Customs Service, was married this morning at the British Consulate to Miss E. Harrow, who came here with the Hamilton troupe, and found her match.

HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, 'APRIL 25,' 1888.

UNFORTONATELY, it has only too frequently been our task, in recent years, to protest against the manifest encroachments of the Chi se authorities in the adjacent province of this British Colony. To the feeble executive which has dominated over the affairs of this colony for the last five years we fear must be ascribed in great measure the daring disregard of international rights, and the oftentimes insulting acts of the Chinese officials which with shameful subserviency—the administrators have apparently submitted to without murmur.

With the advent of Sir WILLIAM DES Vocux, there are not wanting indications hat humiliations of such nature will come to an end. In this belief, we have to chronicle to-day another audacious infringement committed by the Canton authorities during the past week, upon the rights and privileges of the Colony. So far as we have ascertained, the Governor of Kwangtung, who has visited the inundated districts on the Canton river has been desirous of expediting food supplies for the succour-of-the suffering-people; - a most laudable desire in itself, but with this object in view His Excellency despatched a Wei-yuen to Hongkong to consult with the Tung-wah Hospital and others, and to charter a number of steam-launches which were authorized to use the Chinese

The coolness and assumption which prompted this proceeding is edifying enough, when we stop to consider that the Arrow affair, which brought on the bombardment and capture of Canton in 1857, driginated from a far less serious Noreach of international rights. It was quite open to His Excellency to have these vessels supplied, as is the case throughout China, with special flags designating that they were employed on Government service, but to so openly assume authority over the native residents of Hongkong and over property protected by British laws and regulations, is, we venture to think, a principle which requires to be resisted to the utmost if the independence of this Colony be deemed worthy of preservation. We have lately witnessed some of Governor Wu's high-handed proceedings in Macao, which were resented in something like the old national spirit of Portugal, and to the serious discomfiture of this official. That, the Canton officials are capable of being kept within proper bounds by prompt and spirited action, was shown some years ago by Governor Hennessy who was generally credited with blind obsequiousness to the Chinese. It will be remembered that the Chinese cruisers on more than one occasion invaded the sanctity of British waters under the plea of following smugglers. Governor Hennessy, finding his protest of no avail, contented himself with simply notifying the Canton Vicercy Liv in vigorous language that he had called upon the British Naval time. Commander-in-Chief in these seas to fire into and sink any Chinese cruiser which, after that notification should presume to violate the sovereign rights of British waters. . MESSES. Adamson, Bell & Co. inform us that the steamship Moray is due here on the 28th inst. from Singapore.

We note from the Japan Gazette of the 12th have now accepted an engagement to give a series of fifteen performances at the Shintomeza Theatre, where they will open on the 15th instant

SAYS the Straits Times: - To enable persons to form an idea of the large importation into the Straits Settlements, of coolies from Chinese ports; we may mention that the total number imported by three steamers this morning amounted to 2,347, distributed as follows: Italian steamer Stura 768, British steamer Patroclus 886, and Dutch steamer Colebes 603.

WE are informed by the agents (Messrs, Adamson, Bell & Co.) that the Canadian liner Parthia, which left this port on the 15th March, and Yokohama on the 27th, arrived at Vancouver on the 11th instant, and her cargo of silk was delivered in New York on the 20th instant, just nine days after landing at Vancouver, and 23 days from Yokohama.

THE Germans seem to be considerably exercised with the effect that the new Law of Trade Marks is having on their trade with England. The merchants of Hamburg, Bremen, and Hemerhaven-places which have an extensive unde with Great Britain, are, we (Straits Times) hear, quite blue with rage, as the Custom House | into the irregularity. authorities in London have refused to pass a large quantity of their goods. It really seems as if the day of false Trade Marks were departing

THE N. C. Daily News thinks it would have been interesting to see the expression on the Viceroy Li Hung-chang's face, when he penned the paragraph in his Report to the Throne, of his inspection of the troops at Pao-ting-fu, in reference to the "old regulars." He gravely reports that these fossils "performed their evolutions in good style, their volleys, fired with gingalls or fowling-pieces; sounded well together, seventy per cent, or more of their arrows hit the target and their sword and buckler drill was creditable, All this was in the extracts from the Peking support each other in case of need. WHENEVER we write about the Macao semiofficial organ, the Independente, we feel as if we were addressing ourselves to the cargo coolie fraternity at present on strike in this Malta and Gibraltar of the Far East. The most notorious slave of a retrograde Government, the Macao rag actually means to enforce silence on Macao correspondents who sui ply us with news, and it launches forth its vulgar abuse, at the comments we have now and then made on things Macaoese. Our Macao correspondent assures us that having lived for many years in that menagerie of Christianised rodents and long-eared mongrels, he can afford to immoderately laugh at their expense. This we also do, and hope the Independente ignoramuses will favour us with some more of their rank jargon for the benefit and the amusement of their Hongkong confreres presently out of collar.

CHAN Po, 58, an old; clothes tailor, was to-day charged at the Police Court with purchasing clothing from two seamen of Her Majesty's Service and thereby assisting them to desert from the Navy. The first complainant, Andrew Davis, said he was a seaman of H. M. S. Audacious, and that on the evening of the 21st instant he went into prisoner's shop requesting that a suit of merchant seaman's rigging might be given him in exchange for hi uniform. The 2nd complainant, William Lang told a similar story in regard to himself with this difference that he paid the accused $2 60 to make up for certain shortcomings in the "condition of his own uniform. After listening Mr. W. O'Brien, M.P., has been arrested for a | to other witnesses who appeared unable to prove seditious speech at Loughrea, on the 11th instant, I anything against the defendant, further than that act of purchasing clothing from the complainants at their own request, Mr. Sercombe-Smith very properly discharged the defendant, It would appear to most people that the two culprits were the seamen who sold the traps, rather than the tailor who simply car ied out an ordinary business transaction, and who was not supposed to know what the two complainants intended to do with their new suits.

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE.

A fire broke out last night about 8.30 at 186, Wing Lok Street in the house of a mat store and as usual ravaged the premises extending from that thoroughfare right through to the Praya front, a distance of about one hundred The Brigades were quickly on the spot but the flames had got too strong a hold for the firemen to do anything very much more than to keep them from spreading through the adjoining property. As it is, much damage has been done although the destruction does not appear to be very great, from an outside view. The houses which have suffered most are No. 43 Prays, which is quite burnt out, and No. 186 Wing Lok street, No. 188, a rice store in the same street, also No. 184, said to be a tea store. The greater part of the property is said to be insured.

THE CARGO COOLIES' STRIKE. The photographic grievance of the cargoboatmen appears this morning to be spreading through the ranks of all cargo labourers rather than diminishing in force, as was thought to be apparent yesterday. Some few steamers in the harbour and at the Kowloon wharves seem to be proceeding with the business of loading and discharging cargo at a fair rate, but how long this may continue it is difficult to say in the face of present circumstances." At ten o'clock this morning the Italian steamer Bormida, lying at the Peninsular and Oriental Company! wharf, the Fooksang at Jardine's wharf, and four or five other vessels at the letties further westward were obliged to stop work, the explanation from the stevedores being that their by surrounding coolies. 'At Jardine's godown where about 150 Swatow men are employed, the foremen and their men appear to be willing enough to work although they also have been threatened -so it is said-by the Hongkong coolies. How, ever, there appears to be another difficulty in. that direction, and it is that even though the godown men work, their willingness cannot much avail the steamers, because the stowers in the holds, who receive the cargo, are all Hongkong men, and the Swatow coolies cannot both carry from the godowns, and stow in addition. The Compradores along the Praya appear to think

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG TELEGRAPH." Sir, -I beg to draw the attention of our Post Master General, through your valuable paper, to the inconvenience and delay with regard to letters from Bombay by the forthnightly P. & O. steamers. The Surat which arrived about the 11th inst. brought no letters from Bombay; the Taniore which arrived yesterday had the same misfortune as her predecessor. Now, Sir, in the first instance, who is to be blamed? Secondly, why is it that a steamer that comes straight from Bombay, brings no mail, but this is brought a few days later by the French mail? If the same thing happened with the English, French, or German, mail, the foreign community wouldhave clamoured for their letters; but as the Mr. Buxey's bl. #### THE STRIKES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG TRUEGRAPH." SIR,-As you have informed the nublic about the cargo-boat men's strike which began I st week, and the coolies' strike which began to-day, think the Government ought to do something on behalf of the residents of this Colony, must be taken into consideration that we are in the power of the Chinese more than the Government are aware of The Chinese generally cargo-boat men struck work the Daily Press advised the Government to be firm, and not to give in. The strike has ow taken quite a different turn; the Chinese will be induced to strike in everything; the night-soil coolies will strike, and the market people will follow suit I hear the Chinese intend by degrees to sto business altogether. As it is to be hoped th Government do not want to ruin the Colony, ma suggest to them the advisability of altering this regulation of theirs or of making a new one say no more about this matter at present a am sure the unofficial members of the Legis lative Council will insist on something being done to remedy this state of things.
